COLORADO LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

June 17, 2019- January 16, 2020 | 8:00 am - 4:30 pm | Western Management Development Center, Byron Rogers Federal Building, 1961 Stouts Street, Suite 16-111, Denver CO |

Cost: $6950 per person

Online Registration Required | <https://cldcentral.usalearning.net/mod/page/view.php?id=37854>

Who should attend: These programs are designed to meet the leadership development needs of selected federal professionals at the GS-12, GS-13, and GS-14 levels or equivalent, who work in federal, state or local government organizations located in those regions.

Topics covered: The program is based on a "whole person" model comprised of four dimensions: intellectual, emotional, physical, and behavioral. The curriculum combines this model with specific monthly sessions taught by highly-skilled professional facilitators who focus on the development of the OPM Leadership Competencies or Executive Core Qualifications (ECQs). Research shows that development of these competencies is essential to success in senior-level public-sector leadership positions. This program includes in-person classroom sessions, various assessments, one-on-one professional coaching sessions, individual and team developmental assignments.

NATIONAL HIGHWAY TRAFFIC SAFETY ADMINISTRATION (NHTSA)

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) manages vehicle safety recalls, sets vehicle safety standards, and requires automakers to recall vehicles that have safety defects or fail to meet safety standards.

If your car has a recall, get it fixed - it could save your life. You can check for recalls at least twice a year using the online VIN Search Tool at | www.nhtsa.gov/recalls

Any unrepaired vehicle from a major light auto manufacturer (including motorcycles) that has a safety recall will appear in the past 15 years. NHTSA encourages all drivers to visit www.SaferCar.gov | where you can find information on recalls, tires, crash ratings, car seats, safety technologies, and report complaints or safety defects.

For more information on motor vehicle safety defects and recalls, please visit https://www.nhtsa.gov/sites/nhtsa.dot.gov/files/documents/14218-mvsdefectsandrecalls_041619-v2-tag.pdf%20or%20contact%20NHTSA's%20Region%208%20Office%20at%20720-963-3100

FEDS FEED FAMILIES 2019 FOOD DRIVE

June 4 – August 29, 2019

HUNGER IMPACTS EVERYTHING

Food banks across the country face severe shortages of food throughout the summer, as children are left without school nutrition programs. Over the past decade, we have witnessed the remarkable generosity of our Federal workforce, collecting millions of pounds of food to support families in their communities!

HOW YOU CAN HELP

- 1) Designate or volunteer to be a Campaign Manager to coordinate the food drive for your agency.
- 2) Agencies in the DENVER METRO AREA can contact Bart Bushman (303-844-0310, bart.bushman@usda.gov) to get registered with Food Bank of the Rockies for delivery of donation barrels (and/or boxes) and pick-up of donations.
- 3) Agencies in ALL OTHER COMMUNITIES THROUGHOUT COLORADO should coordinate your food drive with your local food bank. If you need help locating a local food bank, please contact Bart Bushman.

Who should attend: everyone interested in advancing their project management skills and acquiring their Green Belt in Lean(er) Six Sigma. Participants will complete an individualized organization-specific project.

Lean Six Sigma (LSS) is a recognized hybrid process improvement program that clarifies how to make any project or activity better, faster and more cost-effective. Our program recognizes that documenting definitive results can be challenging when working on government assignments. This exclusive LSS program simplifies this process by providing repeatable and template-based tools.

Our unique approach Leaner Six Sigma (LrSS©) prepares you to take the Lean Six Sigma Green Belt industry-standard exam and pass on your initial attempt! Our program also provides you with an on-line personal mentor to complete your first public sector Lean Six Sigma endeavor. This includes identifying a good project and strategy. Increasing critical-thinking and enhancing problem-solving skills is valuable to any individual who is interested in demonstrating stewardship, growing as a professional or building a team.

Green Belt Training & Certification

Lean Six Sigma Green Belt Certification is a three-phased designed to give you an overview understanding of Lean Six Sigma in the context of completing projects within an organization. Phase One: Instructor led workshop training; Phase Two: Independent Study and Exam; and. Phase Three: Individualized Project.

Certification Requirements- 3 Days (totaling 21 hours) of live instruction, 5 online homework assignments, an online exam to lock in the training, your first Lean Six Sigma Project.

INSTRUCTORS | Dr. Terra Vanzant Stern

The facilitator, Dr. Terra Vanzant Stern, is the author of A Leaner Approach to Government and Public Utilities and is internationally recognized as a leader in her field. Dr. Stern served as the Chair of the ASQ Lean Enterprise Division and is a popular instructor on IT Pro TV.

NEUROSCIENCE OF TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP

June 17, 2019 | 8:30 am - 3:30 pm | Denver Federal Center, CFEB Training Room (Rm 1442), Bldg. 25, Denver CO|

Cost: $100 per person

Online Registration Required | <https://colorado.feb.gov/register/?ee=494>

Who should attend: anyone interested in learning to become a better leader and helping their organization transform.

Brain science can make you a more effective leader.

“Upwards of 90% of mental activity is unconscious. Yet, most organizations spend 100% of learning budgets on 10% of mental activity.” Leaders develop abilities that help them inspire and manage others. And, like all humans, cognitive “blindspots” hinder even their best efforts. What’s more, the way we work with others is subject to constant change and volatility.

This approach to leadership development incorporates evidence-based brain science to analyze and optimize your organization’s leadership, on a group or individual basis. The topics and programs we cover include some of today’s most pressing challenges.

- Train your brain to maintain commitment to change
- Learn to manage uncertainty by harnessing your brain’s capacity for resilience
- Activate the agile brain (Best practices based on the research behind how brains function in a more agile way)
- Optimize the brain for multi-tasking
- Conquer Digital Distraction
- Practice the science of possibility thinking
- Implement unfocus techniques to increase your creative ability
- Learn about the unconscious biases that obstruct creativity
- Motivate your employees to take intelligent risk
